Japan Electronics Buyers' Guide

First published in 1992, Split Screen is an early and incisive attempt to track the effects of accelerating media convergence. Conventional television, purveyor of sitcoms and game shows, is merging with other electronic media, like the computer and the telephone, giving viewers more choices, control and participation in broadcasting than ever before. Split Screen provides a background on these new technologies and looks at how business and policy issues are affecting Canadian viewers. Prepared for the Friends of Canadian Broadcasting, Split Screen attempts to demystify changing technologies and the threats they pose to Canadian society.

compiles more than fifty years of expertise from the staff of the world-renowned George Eastman Museum and the students of the L. Jeffrey Selznick School of Film Preservation into the most authoritative and accessible guide to film projection ever produced. No film comes to life until it is shown on the big screen, but with the proliferation of digital movie theaters, the expertise of film projection has become rare. Written for both the casual enthusiast and the professional projectionist in training, this book demystifies the process of film projection and offers an in-depth understanding of the aesthetic, technical, and historical features of motion pictures. Join in the fight to save the authentic experience of seeing motion pictures on film.
